(Reuter's Service to the China Mail)
BREAK-UP OF SPA CONFERENCE.
Spa, July 14th.
The Allied delegation met this morning. Marshal Foch and General Meunier conferred on the military situation. Meanwhile, there has been no communication with the Germans. It appears that a break-up is imminent, and the allies will occupy the Ruhr Valley.
The Italian and British Generals are expected to arrive to-night.
Herr von Simons, at his own request, paid a forty-minute visit to Mr. Lloyd George. The visit was only agreed to after Mr. Lloyd George had consulted Mr. Millerand. It is understood that Mr. Lloyd George earnestly pointed out the gravity of the situation and made it abundantly clear that the allies were in no way bluffing.
Later, Mr. Paderewski had a conference with Mr. Lloyd George.
The newspapers forecast a rupture of the negotiations at Spa, contending that any obligation contracted by Herr von Simons is liable to be disavowed by Berlin. They express satisfaction at the attitude of Mr. Lloyd George in supporting the French-coal demands unreservedly.

HINDENBURG'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Berlin, July 14th.
An unknown man broke into Field-Marshal von Hindenburg's house and fired at him. The Field-Marshal's assailant escaped.

AMERICA CUP.

SANDY HOOKS, July 15th.
In the America Cup race, the Resolute turned the outer mark five minutes ahead of the Shamrock when she met with an accident to her rigging and withdrew.
The Shamrock continued and completed the course within the time-limit and was awarded the race.
The final result depends on the winner of the best of five races.

REVOLUTION IN BOLIVIA.

SANTIAGO DE CHILE, July 15th.
The Chilean Government has received private news from La Paz that revolutionaries have seized the President and Ministers.
Sanjurjo, the leader of the Republican Party, organised the movement which led to the overthrow of the Government.

AMERICAN TRANSPORT PROBLEM.

NEW YORK, July 15th.
The American Railway Express Company has asked the Inter-State Commerce Commission to authorise the consolidation of an express transportation business merger, including the Adams, American, Wells Fargo and Southern Express companies.

WIRELESS CRISIS.

LONDON, July 14th.
A fresh wireless operators' crisis has arisen. The negotiations which began on June 24th have broken down. The recent resumption of work was conditional on a settlement within a month ending July 23rd.

"THIRTY PARTY" CONVENTION.

CHICAGO, July 14th.
The Thirty Party Convention has so far been unable to complete its platform. Senator La Follette is objecting to the foreign plank which endorses the League of Nations and favours the recognition of Soviet Russia, Irish independence and raising the Russian blockade. He also objects to the plank advocating the nationalisation of the essential industries.

NO MENNONITES.

JACKSON, July 13th.
The Democratic State Committee of Mississippi has passed a resolution opposing the proposed migration of 8,000 Mennonites (farmers from Canada to Iowa, Mississippi, or the ground that it would be undesirable to allow entry to people who would refuse to let their children attend the public schools, who speak German only and are composed of conspicuous objectors who refused to fight for the Allied cause in war-time.
The Mennonites are a sect of Evangelical Protestants whose doctrine enjoining non-resistance to violence and forbids taking oaths.

IRISH MYSTERY.

LONDON, July 14th.
In Butovank, North Cork, a number of horses belonging to the 12th Lancers died shortly after being watered and fed. An analysis has been summoned to test the water.

MELBOURNE STRIKE.

MELBOURNE, July 14th.
The gasworkers who were on strike have accepted a compromise.

EFFECT OF ANTI-JAPANESE AGITATION IN CALIFORNIA.

NEW YORK, July 13th.
The Japanese Privy Councillor Kento, interviewed, said that the proposed anti-Japanese legislation in California would cause an immensely bad impression in Japan. Good or bad, American and Japanese feeling depended on the action of California. The American nation will never play the role properly belonging to it in Asia until it is able to judge the Asiatic situation by their standard of conduct instead of race.

LOCAL WEDDING.

HINGSTON-ELMS

A quiet wedding, attended only by relatives and intimate friends, took place at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, Glenageary, yesterday, the contracting parties being Mr. Herbert Hingston, of Vancouver, B.C., storekeeper, of the C.P.O.S. line, "Empress of Japan" and Mrs. Mary Charlotte Elms, widow of the late Mr. F. J. Elms, of Vancouver, B.C., and of Hongkong.
The Rev. Fr. Valtorta officiated, while the duties of "best man" were performed by Mr. F. J. Murray of the Banque Industrielle de Chine, Swatow, (nephew of the bride).
Little Miss Eva Elms and Master James Elms (children of the bride) acted as bridesmaid and page, respectively.
After the ceremony, a reception was held at No. 31 Wyndham Street, the residence of Mrs. M. F. Julian (the bride's sister), where the usual toasts were proposed and honoured.

PERISHED AT SEA.

CHINESE COOLIES SUFFOCATED.

BODIES THROWN OVERBOARD.
Rumours circulating about China-town and the waterfront of San Francisco that eighteen Chinese coolies, destined to be smuggled into this country, were suffocated en route in the hold of the steamer "China," which docked at San Francisco are to be investigated officially, according to a statement on June 12, by the Acting Consul-General of the Chinese Consulate.
The bodies of the suffocated coolies, according to the rumours, were dropped into the sea through a porthole to obliterate evidence of the smuggling. The men were supposed to have died because of lack of ventilation in the compartment where they were concealed during the whole time of the voyage.
The rumours followed an investigation made by immigration officials, which resulted in the seizure of a $40,000 opium cache aboard the "China" by Chief Inspector Head.
It was reported, also unofficially, that a dozen Chinese had been suffocated in a like manner in an attempted smuggling some time ago aboard another vessel.
The Acting Consul General said an investigation would be started as soon as notification was received from Federal authorities or officials of the Chinese Six Companies. There is a strong desire among the lower classes of China to emigrate to America because of present economic conditions and the people are willing to take almost any hazard, he stated. San Francisco Immigration Department officials do not place much credence in the rumour, although they say that such a tragedy is a possibility, reports the San Francisco Chronicle.

"THE QUAINTS."

THIRD PERFORMANCE TO-NIGHT.

Last night in the Theatre Royal the "Quaints," Mr. E. B. Salisbury's clever and versatile pierrot company, presented their second programme to another excellent house, whose loud voiced appreciation bore testimony to the high quality of the varied fare provided.
If the success of the first two performances be any criterion, there should be a very large audience at the third performance to-night when an entirely new programme, including many of the best things in the company's extensive repertoire, will be submitted.

MALAYA.

VAST NATIONAL WEALTH.

The Malay Peninsula is on the high road from East to West; it is the southern-most extremity of Asia, and it is the greatest entrepot in the East, writes a correspondent in the "Empire" number of the Times. It is, moreover, a peaceful part of the world, and until the rubber boom attracted attention its geography was almost unknown in the West. It is a little world all in itself, and probably the richest that can be found anywhere on the face of the globe. We have merely sampled the infinite variety of our mineral resources, and tested but a part of our agricultural possibilities.

BLAZON TYPE NOT NECESSARY.
MR. BERLAIN'S Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy needs no glaring headlines to attract the public eye. The name is so common that all chemists sell it is sufficient, as every family knows its value. It has been used for forty years and is just what its name implies. For sale by all Chemists and Dispensaries.

CORRESPONDENCE.

REPULSE BAY CONCERTS.

[To the Editor of the "China Mail"]

Sir,—I write to you with reference to the statement appearing in your issue of yesterday, under the title "Local and General," that Sr. Amelias had not the right to announce a concert at Repulse Bay on Sunday next. It is my belief that, as Sr. Amelias, Mme. Silvestri, and Mlle. Filocamo spent two days with the musicians of the Hongkong Hotel in the preparation of the programme of the said concert, he had the right to announce it in your journal. As a matter of fact, the fee asked by Sr. Amelias was in excess of that which the Hotel was prepared to pay.
I will be obliged if you will publish this explanation of the advertisement's apparently appearing without authority.—Yours, etc.,
D. FILOCAMO.

RIVER BOATS.

A PASSENGER LICENCE ABUSED.

AN ENCOURAGEMENT TO PIRACY?

The detention of the steamer "Kwong Hung" from Wuchow in Hongkong Harbour on Monday morning last while the C.M. Customs authorities removed 200 bags of rice destined for Hongkong (together with a fine of 2,000 taels) brings into prominence a matter which has caused not a little dissatisfaction in local shipping circles.

The sister ship of the "Kwong Hung"—the "Kwong Ying"—carries British officers, but the "Kwong Hung" itself is officered by Chinese. The "Kwong Hung," which formerly held a licence to carry 800 passengers now holds a British passenger licence to carry 120 people only. It is asserted, however, that no sooner does the vessel leave the Hongkong harbour waters than Chinese greatly in excess of the number of passenger prescribed by the British licence board the vessel from sampans. It is further said that in the absence of any arrangement with the Chinese authorities, it is impossible at present to prevent this, and it is urged that the matter should receive the immediate attention of the Hongkong Government, by whose harbour department the passenger licence is issued.

Under the impression that it was necessary that the masters of ships holding British passenger licences to be of European nationality, or at least in possession of equal qualifications, a representative of the China Mail prosecuted inquiries, as the result of which he learned that while it might not be necessary for masters of these vessels to be of European nationality it was essential that they should hold the necessary qualifications. It was understood that in the case of the "Kwong Hung," the master, a Hongkong Chinese (therefore a British subject) did not possess the necessary certificate, though it was believed that he intended to sit for it in the near future. It was learned also that there were special circumstances in his case, as it was stated that he had rendered useful services to the British Government during the war. Other companies engaged in the river trade, however, complain that it is unfair that they should have to pay the wages fixed for qualified men while the company operating the "Kwong Hung" is at liberty in this case to employ a man without the necessary qualifications at a considerably lower wage.

It is further suggested that the presence of Chinese masters on the boats in question might reasonably lead to an increase in piracy, in view of the well-known fact that the Chinese are more prone to attack their fellow-countrymen than they are to venture against foreigners who may equally be relied upon to give as good, if not better, as they receive.

BIG SHIPMENT FROM HONGKONG.

SYNDICATE REGISTERED HERE.

The biggest lot of manganese ever sent out from Hongkong left here on July 10 by the s.s. "Canbas" when 3,000 tons of this ore were shipped to Baltimore by the South China
Development Syndicate, a Chinese-American corporation. The former name of this syndicate was Henry Hope & Company Importers and exporters of Hongkong, says the London Times.

The syndicate is being registered at Hongkong with a capital of $200,000. The officers of the South
China Development Syndicate are Benton C. Byrd, president and general manager; Loring P. Rixford, vice-president and sales manager with office in New York; Kwok E. Shun, vice-president and sale manager;
Kwok Sai Cheuk, secretary-treasurer;
Soo Laiang, chief accountant and importer manager; Philip L. Kim, mining engineer; and Kwok Kai
Hing, export manager.

The syndicate handles antimony,
arsenic, asbestos, bamboo, bismuth,
camphor, canes, fibre, fans, firecrackers, manganese, matting, molyb-denite, oils, peanuts, rattan, rice, tin, and wolfram.

The syndicate has done most in minerals. In the last six months more than half a million dollars business was done in manganese alone.

MANCHESTER WEEKLY MARKET REPORT.

Messrs. James F. Hutton & Co., Ltd., Manchester, report on June 8th.

The most significant item of the week and one likely to be far-reaching importance in the cotton situation, has been the Washington Agricultural Bureau estimate of the new crop condition on May 25. This first report gives an average condition of 62.4 against 75.6 for last year, 82.3 for 1918, 69.5 for 1917 and 77.5 for 1916. It is the lowest figure that has ever been published and the details of the report fully bear out the pessimistic advice received from the various States. Since the figures have been compiled the weather news was rather more satisfactory for a time and there is a possibility of course of a very great improvement in the condition, but such a commensurate is a most severe handicap. The immediate effect of the report was to cause considerable buying, both at New York and Liverpool, as general opinion was for an estimate of about 65, and prices were enhanced, but it has not given rise to the strong upward movement that might have expected. This is no doubt owing to the persistently bearish tendencies which have latterly become evident through the lack of demand for goods and the stringent financial situation, and in spite of late bad weather reports, values have still failed to advance any appreciable extent. In the yarn and cloth markets there has been a marked improvement in enquiry but most of it appears to have been of a testing nature. Whether it is to be put down to the fact that overseas markets have over-estimated the decline in prices here, or whether a recovery in values has been expected to follow the unfavourable crop report, it is difficult to say, but up to the present there have been but few sales put through. Yarns are very steady with the exception of the lower counts of American and Egyptian yarns where prices are easier, but more weakness is apparent in the cloth section and prices are irregular. India is probably chiefly responsible for the better enquiry but there is still a notable absence of definite offers.

China remains inactive and South America and Java have been responsible for odd miscellaneous purchases. For Egypt and the Levant the unsatisfactory taking up of goods is still to be noted. Silver has fallen sharply as a result of American and China offerings being added to Continental selling of the metal.

"TRUTH, JUSTICE, PUBLIC SERVICE."

HONGKONG, SATURDAY, JULY 17, 1920.

ITALY.

We were recently advised not to believe rumours of trouble in Italy. Such is the usual effect of official disclaimers, that we immediately became curious to know just what is going on in that country. It is a land of hot-blooded politicians, great lovers of liberty, and the times and circumstances are such that almost anything might happen.

There are three main parties in the Italian parliament, the Constitutionalists, the Socialists, and the Catholics, respectively sized in the proportions of five, three, and two. Signor Nitti seems to be in a position very like that of Lloyd George, almost a dictator; but he is apparently more of a statesman and less of a demagogue. Here is one of his recent observations: "Imperialism is not a social tendency; it is rather a disease, a morbid exaggeration of patriotism and a form of concentrated blind ambition." This shows that he is also a thinker.

Of nationalism, he said it would dwindle to a political plank as soon as the common people saw that Italy had secured her natural geographical limits.

Of socialism he spoke slightly. It was too impracticable for the mass of Italians. The practical-minded sympathisers would abandon it, and the extremists be discredited.

Of political catholicism (the new or revived party) he spoke rather favourably, remarking that the issue of temporal power was dead, and that the Catholics were co-operating very well with the constitutionalists.

The much-talked-of strikes, especially at Milan, were not really revolutionary, although labour agitation and scientific politics were more intermixed than they used to be.

The sore point among the mass of Italians is that they did not get out of the war. They lost and suffered as much as any other nation, and more than some. They had to face an Austrian army that was hardly less than one third of the entire Austro-German forces. Yet, while England had got practically all the German colonies, France Alsace and Lorraine, with the Saar Basin to exploit, and the United States had practically doubled her national wealth, Italy emerged from war with very little more than Austria had offered her to keep out of it.

In short, as in all the other countries that have discovered war does not pay, but more so, Italy is suffering a reaction against militarism. This has caused a natural leaning towards the Socialists, less to adopt their views than to assert a protest.

Even so, the aspirations have been exaggerated by the news agencies, and the figures prove that business is going ahead and production increasing.

ADVERSARIA.

What an extraordinary thing, observed Huck, swiping an intrusive fly, that so many of the people who didn't lose the war should apparently be looking for it again. And the Wichita Beacon (U.S.A.) seems also to have a shrewd monkey on its staff; because it says that France cannot decently pretend that she fought for human freedom now that she has put a tax on bachelors.

In an article on preaching, a recent writer remarks that the average preacher is practically under contract to deliver a new message every Sunday for ten or eleven months every year. He thinks that "not even the ablest men in the country could successfully perform such a task," because "given an intelligent congregation, there is no earthly reason for supposing that any man can possibly have anything of importance to say to it, week after week, year in and year out."

If that argument stands, what allowances are you prepared to make for the miserable drudge of a newspaper writer who, year after year, every week of every year, and six days of every week, must produce thought material equivalent to the bulk of three sermons? The London Times is reputed to have between fifteen and twenty editorial writers, each contributing a weekly quota. Compare their output with that of the China Mail—and then start your subscription towards Hongkong's biggest statue. Even "Tony," laboriously producing a twelve line poem once in a blue moon, might be tempted to subscribe. As Huck says, it's a blooming miracle.

When the subject is ENGLAND, England, it not only eliminates drudgery, but gives better results, to take real poetry ready-made than to attempt indifferent amateur lyrics. How do you like this one by Beryl Carter, from the Poetry Review?

England—a meadow land with bees.
Shut in with tall unwinning trees.
And coloured like an angel's hair
Because of all the kingcups there,
England—the ghost of an old mill
Still standing dauntless on a hill.
Itself as old as shadows are,
Or the first shining of a star.

England—a roadway palely lit
With primroses where children sit.
Big bloomy bunches on their laps,
And in their hair, and on their caps.

England—a meadow land with bees.
Shadowed by honeyed lindens,
The colour of a sunset sky—
For this men live—for this they die.

To which we simply must append another poem with bees in it, by that great Englishman, Herbert Asquith, formerly premier. Huck says he is better as poet than as politician; but that's monkey talk. The lines appeared in the Spectator:

If we could save our moments,
Store them deep
In caverns of the mind to choose at will,
Not as the dream that drains
into a sleep,
But as the taste of wine, liquid
cool and still;
Could groping fingers hold the grains of ore
And set the scattered jewels
in a crown,
Comb out the beach of Time,
and from the shore
Net all the tangled treasure
floating down;

Then living so with heaven at our hand
We'd fly at death, like laden bees, to bear
That heaven's cup to the bea-von there—
Longer than any bronze these would abide,
These, that are now as writing
on the sand
Beneath the wave of each oncoming tide.

Mr. Lowe, CIVIL SERVICE M.L.C., please SUBORDINATES, note. A gentleman, writing on both sides of the paper, claims to have interviewed many members of the subordinate clerical staffs of the Civil Service, and says they are all complaining that while heads of departments have been well attended to, they are still awaiting their long expected increase. He and they want to know "if our Mr. Lowe, as a member of the Legislative Council, will kindly ask a question about this at the next meeting." They will get the right answer by waiting and seeing.

There's no reason, sonning to it; it is pure feeling; but very real and very strong. Chesterton puts it quite well in the following paragraph of his "Irish Impressions." If an Englishman confesses that he feels that way, why should he object to an Irishman feeling the same way?

A brilliant writer, once propounded to me his highly personal and even perverse type of internationalism, by saying, as a sort of unanswerable challenge, "Wouldn't you rather be ruled by Goethe than by Walter Long?" I replied that words could not express the wild love and loyalty I should feel for Mr. Walter Long if the only alternative were Goethe. I could not have put my own national case in a clearer or more compact form. I might occasionally feel inclined to kill Mr. Long; but under the approaching shadow of Goethe, I should feel more inclined to kill myself.

Of course a reasoning Englishman would prefer the rule of Goethe to that of Walter Long, if he should permit himself to reason on such a matter; but he doesn't. He can't. To him such a proposition is beyond all reason; will not bear discussion. That is exactly the Shin Fane answer, when we ask them why they object to us so much. What have we done, etc.? They say they object to us because, good as we may be, we are aliens. So with Indians, South Africans, and the rebels. The feeling of such people is that not even a good government is good if it be foreign.

"Tony" has really enhanced our minority by his latest effort; and it is on the cards that he and Adversarius must shortly engage in synchronous ingurgitation. "Tony" pining for the first, third, fifth and so on. O. O. An-lou-y-o

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Hunan, Hupeh, Kiangsi and Kwangtung will soon form a federation.

Mr. M. C. Lasher is exempted from the Dental Register requirements.

Dr. W. W. Pearse, our M.O.H., is gazetted to act as Colonial Vet. during Mr. Gibson's absence.

Messrs. Hu Wun Um, Sir Poy Lun, Leung Se Kan, Leung Pui, Chin Sik Yung, and Sung Tsui Lun are registered partners in the Chinese Mercantile Co.

The National Assembly has communicated with the Ministry of Finance to the effect that for protection of public interests, all the Chinese banks in the South-western provinces should be ordered to register without delay.

Since the North River districts are thickly infested with bandits, Lin Fu, the Commander-in-chief of the Second Division of the Defence Corps, has recently sent an officer to Canton to apply for arms and ammunitions in order to send special expedition against them.

The following approaching weddings are announced.—Mr. Jose Maria Victor, of the Standard Oil Company's staff, to Miss Maria Angelina dos Remedios; Mr. George Herbert Elliott to Miss Ada Marie Regden, en route to Hongkong by the "Empress of Russia."

If it be wrong to work cargo on a Sunday, payment of a fee cannot make it right. The Governor is prepared, however, to sell indulgences applied for up to 1 p.m. on Saturdays. In special cases, by enclosing cheque, applicants at the Harbour Office residential quarters may be obliged up to 5 p.m. on Saturdays.

Admiral Lin Pao-yi, the Naval Minister, has recently telegraphed to the Canton authorities stating that the two gunboats, "Yung Cheung" and "Fu An" have already arrived in Chao-chow and Sze-yat respectively. The gunboat, "Chao-ho" is now on her way back to Canton, but the "Hailin" will not return to Canton yet.—C.T.

The Military Government of Canton, according to the Canton Times, has agreed to General Wu Pei-fu's proposal by which the four provinces, Kwangtung, Kiangsi, Hunan and Hupeh should join in common action to oppose the Peking Government for having given the Peking-Hankow-Suiyuan Railway as a security for a foreign loan of $6,000,000.

The authorities of the several districts in Kwangtung have been ordered by the Civil Governor of Canton, says the local paper, to report full particulars of the number of reserve granaries each has ready for storage purposes in case of famine. The Civil Governor is afraid that the people will be in need of aid soon. It is the custom in the districts to store up grain against possible famines.

Chinatown San Francisco is getting dryer, and dryer every day. And Chinese doctors, who are paid for keeping their patients well, are making money while doing no work. It says the San Francisco Chronicle. Its not worth while for a Chinaman to get sick when the patient can get no spirits. A Treasury Department ruling made in pre-prohibition days allowed the importation of Chinese wines on the ground that they were used for medicine. But since January 10, the importations have increased greatly, so the Treasury Department told the "prohibition" folks about it and dry squad has held up shipments for the last seven weeks pending a ruling from Washington, which the Chinese importers fear will never arrive.

On account of the strained circumstances in shipping circles, many small Japanese dockyards have been obliged to close and quite a number of them have gone bankrupt or in turn been absorbed by the larger shipbuilding firms. Cancellation of orders has been steadily flowing in and the price of ships is steadily falling. The best example of this downward tendency is the recent contract between the Kawasaki Shipyard and the Uchida Steamship company, for a steamship of 8,000 tons Y280 per ton to be delivered in November. Vessels can be bought at the present time in Japan for as little as Y80 per ton; for wooden steamers of uncertain age, but for the average steamer of about 2,000 tons the price runs at about Y150 per ton.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Owing to the increase in the number of paupers in the suburbs of the Capital, the Peking Government is contemplating the establishment of a number of vocational training school to teach them how to earn an honest living.

The British Consulate at Nanking is being raised to the grade of Consulate-General and the Consular staff will be materially increased. It is also understood that a new Consular building and residence for the Consul-General will be constructed.

A correspondent informs the C. C. Post that the much dreaded "Killing Tiger" has again put in an appearance at the summer resort. It is further reported that a Chinese has again fallen victim to the monster, having been found in a badly mauled condition.

The Superintendent of the Board of Conservancy Works of Kwangtung has reported that the funds required for the improvement of the three rivers in this province will be for the West River, $19,500,000; for the North River, $10,900,000; and for the East River, $4,600,000. Total expenditure will amount to $35,000,000.

The Shanghai Gazette does not bear whether the scheme inaugurated by a local skipper to promote a Nautical School in Shanghai for the benefit of the juniors on the coast has yet been accomplished. The School would be a welcome innovation and deserves, when it does get established, to be well supported by the nautical fraternity.

There was a bank holiday in the Straits the other day and the Government offices remained open! A great many people fainted when they heard of this awful desecration of tradition and the sensation caused has only once before been equalled, when Black Michael announced that the Tanjong Pagar Arbitration would continue its sittings on the afternoon of Race Days.

The Osaka Shosen Kaisha has refused to accept the offer of the Tokyo Kisen Kaisha to pay for the delay in sailing of the "Africa Maru" caused by standing by and giving assistance to the "Kyo Maru" when she was on fire off Honmoku. It was stated that any assistance rendered by the "Africa Maru" is merely a duty which any steamer owes to another in distress and not a matter of money.

The case was mentioned at the Colombo Police Court on June 22 in which Mrs. Violet Elaine Webb was charged with having bigamously married Mr. G. E. Nalpan at Singapore. Inspector Hay de Sarum, of the C.I.D., who filed the complaint, moved to withdraw the charge as the alleged offence had been committed outside the jurisdiction of the Court. The application was allowed.—Ceylon Independent.

A correspondent writes to the Shanghai Gazette:—"Messrs. Jardine Matheson and Co., Ltd. in a circular issued to the masters, officers and engineers employed in the vessels of the Indo-China S.N. Co., state that the demands of the China Coast Officer and Engineer's Guilds for a 50 per cent increase in salaries cannot be met owing to a variety of reasons but they will consider granting a 10 per cent increase to the married men. No mention is made of retrospective increase or increase to the salaries of the junior officers and engineers or 'single men.'"

Dr. August Gramatzky, a German and formerly professor in several Japanese Colleges, was obliged to give up a "business trip" from Yokohama on the O.S.K. liner "Alaska-maru" to Havana, via the Panama Canal. It is stated that he bought a ticket through the "good offices" of Dr. Sata, President of the Osaka Medical University, but his passport was not issued by the American Consul-General. The German professor has, it is stated, been in Japan over forty years, and during the war was in Mexico. He returned to Japan two months ago on the T.K.K. "Seiyō-maru."

An ordeal involving his professional honour was recently experienced by a French doctor named Tissot, who lives at Bonneville, near Geneva. He was on his way to a neighbouring village where a patient with influenza was in a serious condition, when his carriage was overtaken by a messenger who said that the doctor's 17-year old son had fallen into a ravine while collecting Alpine flowers and fractured his skull. The physician, after hesitating a few minutes, drove on to his patient. On returning home he found his son dead.

CHILDREN'S CORNER.

[CONDUCTED BY "PETER PAN."]

My dear Children,

You always have a holiday on a Saturday and then you have more time for playing and reading.

And so, every Saturday, I am going to put some stories and verses in this paper for you to read and sometimes we will have competitions and puzzles and riddles and I despatch there will be prizes too occasionally!

Don't you think that will be rather fun?

And because grown-ups are not always quite as grown-up as they appear I am going to sign myself

Your loving,

PETER PAN.

THE GARDENER'S BROOM.

It was autumn and the leaves were coming off the trees and blowing about all over the place.

Molly was looking out of her nursery window watching them and listening to them rustling along the ground. "I do wonder why they are in such a hurry," she said to herself, "and where they are all going to."

Just at that moment five brown shrivelled up-leaves blew on to the window sill and one of them, as it touched the window, turned into a tiny nut brown man who took off his pointed hat and bowed low before Molly.

"I, who am the King's Messenger, can answer your questions, Madam," he said, and Molly, who was only seven and had never before been addressed as Madam felt very important and answered in what she thought was the correct manner, "Pray continue, my noble lord."

"We none of us dare stay still for more than a few minutes," the little man went on. "Because we are always trying to get away from a monstrous thing known as the gardener's broom which sweeps us into all sorts of unpleasant places. And we all want to get to the woods where we can spend a quiet and comfortable winter, each one with his family round him. It is my duty to warn the leaves from which direction the gardener's broom is coming and to hasten them on to the woods."

"Do you hurry along the ground like the rest of the leaves, Mr. King's Messenger?" asked Molly. "Or can you go any faster?"

"I go much faster, Madam," he replied, "and if you would like it I will take you with me."

"Thank you so much," Molly cried, "I should just love to go with you."

Whereupon the King's Messenger gave a shrill whistle and four fat spiders came bustling along. They went up to the leaves which were still lying on the window sill and in a few minutes had fastened them together with strong threads and had made a neat little carriage with a web at each corner for a wheel.

"Give me your hand, dear Madam," said the King's Messenger to Molly, and as soon as he had placed her little finger on the carriage she dwindled away until she was small enough to get in.

"As you are not used to this way of travelling, allow me to strap you in," he said then and at once the spiders tied Molly firmly in with threads.

Then the King's Messenger clapped his hands and off they went, as though drawn by invisible horses, down the side of the house, along the garden paths and bump, bump over stones and over flower and vegetable beds, so fast that it nearly took Molly's breath away.

"And all the time the King's Messenger, who was looking through a pair of glasses, called out 'Broom in the garden to the right!' or 'Broom coming down the gutter behind you!' and away all the brown leaves around them went scuttling and rustling.

At last they came to a wood where all was quiet and in the hollows brown leaves lay piled up, having a rest after their hurried journey. Then home again by another way, with the King's Messenger giving his orders all the time, until they reached Molly's nursery window sill once more.

"Now," said the King's Messenger, as Molly stepped back into the room and regained her original size, "your questions have been answered and I will wish you good-bye."

"Good-bye and thank you very much," Molly replied, but almost before the last words were out of her mouth the King's Messenger was a speck in the distance, whirling along in his leaf chariot.

THE WATER BABE.

As I was sitting by the pool
Thinking it looked so nice and cool,
All shining in the sun,
I heard a splash and then a cry,
A water babe went twinkling by,
He was a tiny one.

No bigger than my Teddy bear
But with the longest golden hair
And eyes of brightest blue.
So fat and plump, with skin like snow
He went a-splashing, to and fro
And looked me through and through.

I think he must have thought me nice,
He smiled at me just once or twice.

And laughed aloud with glee,
I could have played with him all day
But not a word then could I say,
He came so suddenly.

A great big fish came swimming by,
I wondered if he'd laugh or cry,
He didn't seem to mind,
But as the fish went on apace,
I saw him spring with ease and grace
And jump on from behind.

Now down the pool so fast he flew
To where the water lilies grew,
His laugh like music rang,
And as he neared a lily gold
He suddenly looked very bold
And on a leaf he sprang.

At last, the leaf was a, and snapped,
He rolled out of it's glossy lap
Into the water 'cool',
I waited for an hour or more,
But all was quiet as before,
No ripple on the pool.

I looked and looked with all my might
But saw no more that water sprite,
He'd vanished quite away.
So home I went and as I ran
I thought, "Just wait my little man,
I'll come another day."

YARN MARKET.

Messrs. Polishwalla & Kocwall, cotton and yarn brokers, report on July 16 as follows:—

Since our last report on the 16th ult. by Mr. "Nellor," the weakness in our yarn market had become rather intense in consequence of pressure to sell by some importers, thereby rendering the position of market as one of serious consideration. However, towards the latter period there came encouraging reports from Bombay market, where considerable buying took place for local consumption and rates advanced about Rs. 50 a bale. This had the most desirable effect on the general tone of market here and buyers snapped up desirable cheques of No. 10s at an increase of $10 to $15 per bale. The bulk of the sales took place in 10s count and it is reported that a good portion of these sales was made of Shanghai consignments which some of the importers thought of converting here. Although the market remains steady, there have no further sales come to book for the last few days and it seems as though buyers are surfeited in the meanwhile.

Notwithstanding this improvement, No. 20s counts are still neglected because of competition from Japanese and Shanghai Mills, and the value of this particular count in Bombay is so tempting that some importers have re-shipped their holdings there. This constitutes a most peculiar incident in the annals of Indian yarn trade.

Sales 8,000 bales.
Unsold Stock 5,500 bales.
Bargains 17,000 bales.

Arrivals:—From Bombay 8,000 bales.

Shanghai:—Although there is some movement in yarn, the sales registered during the period are not of any magnitude and in face of present political ferment in the North, it is doubtful any change for the better would occur there in the near future.

Japanese Yarn:—The prices of this yarn have still remained very low and nothing of importance has passed during the interval. The following are the latest quotations:—Nagasaki, No. 20s, at $280; 3 Horses, No. 16s, at $275; 3 Horses, No. 20s, at $255-260; Sessu, No. 10s, at $230; Sessu, No. 20s, at $220; Blue Fish, No. 20s., at $275.

Raw Cotton:—No stock. Quotations: Bengal at $40/46 per picul; Chinese at $42/50 per picul.

WEEKLY SHARE REPORT.

Messrs. W. Logan & Co. report on July 16:

"Since our last report of the 9th inst. our market, owing to tight money has been very dull with only a small amount of business passing. The Shanghai market appears even worse than Hongkong and quotations coming through are nominal ones."

Banks.—Hongkong, and Shanghai Banks, sales have taken place at $660/670 and more shares are wanted at the latter rate.

Marine Insurance.—Unions have buyers at $195. North China Tis. 160. Cantons $39.

Refineries.—China Sugars were done at $227, but have no buyers at $230. Malabons are wanted at $55.

Docks and Wharves.—Kowloon Wharves, after sales at $84, have buyers at that rate. Kowloon Docks, no business in this stock is reported and shares are on offer at $150. Shanghai Docks are enquired for at Tis. 131 and New Engineering Tis. 29.

Miscellaneous.—The following are all buying quotations: Cements $7.20; China Providents $74; Dairy Farms $23; Electric $194; Hongkong Ropes $23; Peak Trams (old) $6; Steam Laundries $5; Waterboats $14; Powells $114; and Wisemans $35.

WALLA WALLA.—The harbour but never double cross you. Phone No. 8510.

AMERICAN MARINE BILL.

SPLIT IN FREIGHT CONFERENCE POSSIBLE.

LOCAL SHIPPING FIRMS INTERVIEWED.

Should the American Marine Act, which has now passed both the House of Representatives and the Senate, and has been signed by President Wilson, become effective in such a way that American Shipping Board operators are able to quote lower, on through freight, than their foreign competitors, a split in the Trans-Pacific Freight Conference is almost inevitable.

The Trans-Pacific Freight Conference has now been in operation for several years, being an outgrowth of the war. A recent notable withdrawal from the Conference was that of the Blue Funnel Line. According to one of the clauses in the agreement, three months' notice must be given in case of withdrawal. In order to be prepared for the contingency, in the case of one large Japanese company, tentative notice of withdrawal has already been handed to the Secretary of the Conference, effective, however, only in the event of the Bill and its preferential provisions for American shipping board vessels, going into effect.

The local manager of this company informed a representative of the China Mail that he understands that the provisions of the American Marine Act become effective on September 6, but that a month's notice may possibly be given, thereby making the date of application of its provisions on October 6.

The local manager of another Japanese steamship concern informed our representative that his company has no intention of withdrawing from the Trans-Pacific Freight Conference unless forced to do so by circumstances. He says that several of the shipping board ship operators are members of this conference, and it all depends upon their action, and the action of the Shipping Board itself, whether or not the Trans-Pacific Freight Conference will split.

By the provisions of the American Marine Act, American Shipping Board operators could quote low through rates, that is low rates for railroad transportation to points in the United States as a matter of preference, while foreign companies could only obtain on the railroads domestic American rates, which are much higher. In fact, it is said that the application of the domestic rates on through cargo would eliminate all profit on freight transactions and occasion loss. If withdrawals take place, they will become effective immediately upon the application of the principles of the new American Marine Act.

The Act is evidently designed to foster the upkeep of the new American mercantile marine, especially that part of it under the supervision of the Shipping Board. In America, it seems, the word "subsidy" arouses antagonism on the part of various interests. This Act, however, if put into effect as it stands, would mean a much greater fostering of the "marine infant" than would a subsidy, because a subsidy applies to only a few ships of a nation in proportion to the number operated, whereas the provisions of the American Marine Act would have a wholesale application.

It is fully expected that Great Britain, Japan, and other countries affected by the new Act will protest through their Ambassadors against the application of the Act in a discriminatory way against their shipping. It is felt that the matter is still unsettled and that the near future will bring some moderation in the application of the provisions of the new Act.

AMERICAN COMMENT.

It is intimated that the British Government will probably make diplomatic objection to two clauses of the

HONGKONG FISH AND CHIP SERVICE.

A VISIT TO THE FRYERY.

INTERESTING DESCRIPTION OF THE WORK THERE.

Although the fried fish and chip trade has been known to mankind for close upon forty years, there is undoubtedly much connected with the business that is but little known to the man round the corner. Situated at the top of the gentle slope in Ghee Street, the frying establishment of Ah Lum and Company is surrounded by a veritable oasis of flat duck and garlic emporia.

Our representative peregrinated thither recently for the purpose of interviewing Ah Lum and obtaining some facts for our readers. He realized on approaching that a July day is not quite the best time for entering the aura of fish and hot oil, and he ceased to wonder that the premises should be terra calida to the Peak dwellers.

On reaching the sanctum of Ah Lum, he found that gentleman very sympathetic. He showed him round. The work of the Fryery may be divided into four parts.

- (1) Fish
- (2) Potatoes
- (3) Oil
- (4) Fire

Correct combinations of these four are obtained by the definitely coordinated energies of two assistants in singlets and shorts. Our representative was much impressed by the scientific way in which the raw tubers evolved into ten cents worth of greasy delight.

It may be mentioned that each potato is recruited directly from a barrel. It is also evident that considerable mechanical and scientific knowledge is necessary for the correct inter-relations of heat, oil, and material.

Mr. Ah Lum then showed and explained the fryingpan, the slice, the ladle, and the poker, the last being particularly interesting. The oil, he explained, is a very differently evolved article to that with which the Romans used to fry the early Christians, its chemical constitution belonging to the arcana of expert research. Mr. Ah Lum stated that he considered the new apparatus for the purpose he had seen. He added that as fortuitous earthquakes have been found to agitate the oil in the pan in such a way as to spread the browning of the fish evenly, a seismograph for the registration of such vibrations is on order from Ireland. Without the ready but not gratuitous co-operation of the Gas Company, Mr. Ah Lum showed that firewood would be necessary.

Mounting to the roof of the fried fish shop, a fine view of Kowloon and Wanchai is obtained, and as the dense mass of buildings on shore and steam and sailing craft afloat is contemplated, the responsibility of Mr. Ah Lum for satisfying the fish and chip cravings of such a multitude is perhaps more fully comprehended. The frizzling of the first pan load paralyses the passerby, perhaps futilely, if he haven't the price of a taste; it stimulates agreeably the olfactory nerves, and causes loss of appetite.

TRADER MURDERED.

WHAT WAS THE MOTIVE?

ROBBERY OR TRADE RIVALRY?

At the Magistracy yesterday afternoon, before Mr. N. L. Smith, the preliminary enquiry was held into the charge of murder preferred against a Chinese travelling trader.

Sub-inspector Murphy prosecuted. The accused, who was not represented by counsel, pleaded not guilty. Telling the story, Inspector Murphy said that both the deceased and the accused were natives of the same village in San Wui district, and were registered with the Sze Yap S.S. Company as travelling traders, thus receiving certain privileges. At 7 a.m. on July 1, the date of the murder, the defendant left two baskets at a shop on the first floor of No. 179 Connaught Road Central, for safe keeping. At 3 p.m., the same day, the deceased left No. 126 Des Voeux Road Central, with two baskets containing $400, with the intention of boarding the s.s. "Onlee" which was due to sail at 7 p.m., for Kongmun. On the way to the wharf, he met the defendant who prevailed on him to go with him to Lower Lascar Row to get some orders. The defendant suggested that the two deceased would leave the two baskets for the time being at No. 179 Connaught Road Central, where he said he had also left his own baskets for safe keeping. The people in the house were well known to him, and everything would be all right. On this assurance, the deceased agreed. About half an hour later, the deceased, as witnesses would state, staggered into No. 126 Des Voeux Road, and told his folks that he had been stabbed by the defendant. He had a dagger in his hand, and was bleeding from a wound in the back. He had his two baskets with him, and these he entrusted to his folks, after which he walked out of the shop and leaned against a lamp post until an ambulance arrived. The defendant's photograph was obtained by the Police from the Sze Yap Company. A watch was at once kept on all wharves and railway stations, especially the Kongmun Wharf, where, ten minutes before the "Onlee" sailed, defendant made his appearance and was arrested. The motive of the attack on the deceased was believed by the Police to be robbery, as both men were on quite good terms. One point in support of the theory that robbery was the motive, said the Inspector, was the fact that the defendant had suggested to the deceased that he should leave his baskets at No. 179 Connaught Road Central, where he (defendant) could get free access to them. There was no direct evidence of murder against the accused except the deceased's depositions to his folks and to the Police. But, said the Inspector, the circumstantial evidence was very strong.

Dr. H. H. Scott, Government Bacteriologist, deposed that he examined the dagger produced, and found traces of human blood on the blade.

Dr. Y. K. To, Assistant Superintendent of the Government Civil Hospital, testified that death was due to internal hemorrhage caused by a wound, which could have been inflicted by a weapon running in the one produced.

STRANDED "KOYO MARU."

ASHORE IN GULF OF MEXICO.

Word has not yet been received by the Hongkong Office of the Togo Kisen Kaisha of the amount of damage done to the s.s. "Koyo Maru," of that company when she went ashore in the Gulf of Mexico on June 28.

The vessel, which plies from the Far East to Havana and other ports through the Panama Canal, sailed from Hongkong on February 29. Arriving at Havana, she discharged her cargo and proceeded to New Orleans where she was to load general cargo. The vessel does not call at Hongkong after returning through the Panama Canal on her homeward voyage but proceeds to San Francisco, thence to Yokohama and Kobe. As the cargo taken on the homeward voyage is principally for Japan, the stranding of the vessel will not affect the Hongkong office. After leaving New Orleans, on her way to the Eastern entrance of the Canal, the vessel stranded on the Serrana Bank in the Gulf of Mexico. Further particulars from Japan as to the amount of damage done are expected by the Hongkong office of the T.K.K. any day.

MAN OVERBOARD!

PASSENGER LOST AT SEA.

Capt. Ealsen of the s.s. "Prosper," reports that while the ship was on a voyage to Hongkong from Saigon, on the 13th inst., when the vessel was in about 12° 22' North Latitude and 109° East Longitude, at about 1.30 p.m., the Second Officer, who was on watch, gave the alarm of "man overboard."

The engines were immediately stopped and the Chief Officer and a party of four took to a boat and searched the scene of the accident without success. The vessel then circled round the spot at slow speed for about an hour in the hope of recovering the missing man, but the search proved fruitless, and voyage was continued at 2.30 p.m.

The unfortunate man was a Chinese passenger from Saigon named Tan Lee Seng. The weather was fine and the sea smooth at the time. No explanation could be given for the total disappearance of the man.

A Chinese folk of the deceased deposed that he was present in the shop at No. 126 Des Voeux Road Central when the deceased came in and said he had been stabbed by the defendant. This witness told the Court that the deceased's business was a very prosperous one.

Mr. Smith enquired from Sub-Inspector Murphy at this stage if the motive of the attack on the deceased was not really attributable to trade rivalry?

The Inspector replied that he was inclined to disagree with that theory having consideration of the defendant's questionable character. He was not what one could call an "honourable and trustworthy" man. After several more witnesses had been examined the Court adjourned.

$5,000 FINE.

POSSESSION OF OPIUM.

At the Magistracy this morning, before Mr. R. O. Hitchcock, Chief Preventive Officer Wildin charged an elderly Chinese woman, the mistress of a cargo boat, with the unlawful possession on board the boat, of 1,564 taels of prepared non-Government opium.

Defendant admitted possession, but denied guilty knowledge. She said that the drug, done up in several parcels, was entrusted to her for safe keeping by a friend who did not inform her of the contents.

Inspector Wildin said that the defendant's junk was unloading a cargo of firewood on the Praya yesterday, when he boarded it to search for contraband. In the defendant's quarters, he discovered about 1,000 taels of the drug. A search in the crew's quarters at the bow of the ship, brought to light another 500 odd taels.

The Magistrate imposed a fine of $5,000 or six months' hard labour. The drug was confiscated.

OLD EXCUSE FUTILITY.

Inspector Purden, of Mount Gough Police Station, charged a Chinese with the unlawful possession of 4 taels of prepared non-Government opium.

The defendant said that a friend gave him the parcel containing the drug. He did not know its contents. After hearing evidence the Magistrate imposed a fine of $200 or six months' hard labour, and ordered the drug to be confiscated.

"TRUCKPORTATION"

FOUR-WHEEL DRIVE.

ENTERPRISE IN FAR EAST.

The F.W.D. representatives who have been active in this Colony, and in Canton, recently, report a very lively interest in motor truck transportation here, amongst Chinese as well as Europeans.

It may be remarked that a new word has been coined in connection with motor truck transportation, which is rapidly coming into general use, namely, "truckportation," in using which a saving of two words is effected.

A well-known civil engineer of Canton, who served with the British M. T. Service in France during the war, when he learned from Mr. H. C. Daniels, travelling representative of the F. W. D., and Mr. E. Mow Fung, their Hongkong Agent, what factory they were representing, praised the truck highly. He said that he saw many of these vehicles in use in France and was at first amused, and astonished, and later came to take it for granted, that the front wheels should pull the truck out when a rear-wheel driven truck would need a tow. In fact, he said it was quite usual to send an F. W. D. to the rescue of a rear-axle driven truck when the latter was in distress.

A great deal of local interest is being centered in the unique system of drive used in the F. W. D. motor trucks. This system, with power all around, besides causing the truck to do things that the rear wheel driven type cannot do, gives a great saving in wear and tear on tyres, and is more economical in its consumption of fuel than the rear-wheel type.

The engine of the F. W. D., a heavy duty model, is of powerful construction, strong, consistent and economical. The greatest care has been taken to protect it from the effects of possible neglect or abuse. The engine is of the 4-cylinder, water cooled type, with 1 head cylinders cast in pairs. It has a bore of 4 3/4 inches and a stroke of 5 1/2 inches. The A.L.A.M. rating is 36.1 horse power. The inlet and exhaust valves are interchangeable and are made of chrome nickel steel. The crank shaft is of chrome nickel steel, heat treated and mounted in three large bronze backed bearings. The cam shafts are high grade forgings with cams forged integral.

The engine lubrication system is a combination of the force feed and splash type, operated by a pressure pump in the lower half of the crank case and driven from the cam shaft by a bevel gear. Oil is supplied under pressure to all bearings through oil ducts bored in the crank case and oil holes drilled in the crank shaft.

The carburettor is a Stromberg heavy duty type and is provided with a glass float chamber so that the gasoline level may be easily determined. Ignition is by Eisemann waterproof high tension magneto. The ignition advance is regulated by means of a hand lever mounted under the steering wheel.

The radiator is of the built up tubular type with cast head and sides and ample water capacity. Any part that may be broken through accident may be easily replaced and, should the tubes become punctured, the ends of the tubes could be pinched together and the truck kept in service until new tubes are available.

The fan is self-adjusting, the belt being held at the desired tension by a heavy spring, assuring a tight belt under changing condition of weather and temperature. All fan bearings are enclosed, dust-proof and packed in grease.

The clutch used is said to be the most perfect made. With traction on all four wheels an exceptionally good clutch is necessary. After exhaustive tests, the Hele-Shaw clutch, imported from Europe, was adopted and found to answer all requirements. The driving plates consist of twenty-three copper and steel discs running in oil; the film of oil between the discs prevents them grabbing and ensures a gradual engagement which eliminates shock to driving parts, and prevents the sudden jerk on wheels which is conceded to be one of the principal causes of premature tyre depreciation. The clutch is entirely enclosed and all parts are interchangeable.

The front axle and steering mechanism are a distinctive feature of this type of truck. The axle shaft is identical with any other full floating axle shaft, except that at the steering wheel ends it is made into a universal joint, which is housed in a steel ball and socket. This universal joint provides the steering flexibility for the driving shaft and the socket, riding on the pivots of the ball, provides the steering flexibility in the housing.

The distinctive feature of this first successful application of power to four wheels is that it accomplishes its purpose absolutely without the use of any rings or pinions in the wheel, affording an unusually strong, flexible, and simple driving and steering device. The transmission used in the F.W.D. truck is of the individual clutch type, which is recognized as being superior to all other types for commercial service.

The principal advantages of this transmission are unusual strength, durability and ease of shifting. No matter how fast the car may be travelling, and regardless of the speed at which the gears may be rotating, the speed changes can be made instantly and with perfect ease. The gears are not shifted but are always in mesh and changes are made with dog clutches, in which six heavy teeth engage at the same time to take the strain. This makes it impossible to strip the gears in the shifting process. On high speed the drive is direct and the countershaft and all main shaft gears are idle.

The centre differential is the point where the power from the motor is divided and sent to each axle in its proper proportion. Its action between the two axles is the same as that of the rear and front differentials between the two wheels. For example, in turning a corner and travelling over uneven roads the front wheels travel over a greater distance than the rear wheels and therefore must revolve more rapidly. The centre differential takes care of this difference in speed. From this point the power is transmitted to each axle through a propeller shaft.

This centre differential may be locked by levers so that when necessary both front and rear wheels turn at the same speed. This prevents spinning of the wheels when one set of wheels strikes a soft spot. The axles are of the full floating type with central shaft drive.

The number of trucks sold to the British Government during the war was 4,000 instead of 1,000 as was recently reported.

The front wheels pull, the rear wheels push. That is what is meant by four wheel drive. The energy supplied by the motor is equally divided between the front and rear wheels.

An official audit shows the cost of repair parts for F.W.D. trucks furnished the British Government, based on 3,000 trucks used in the war zone in a period of 23 months. It shows that the cost for all parts bought from the company by the British Government, including one shipment that was sunk by a U-boat, also including an unknown, but large, quantity on hand when hostilities ceased, amounted to but $7.17 per truck per month. The cost on the Mexican border averaged $10.52 per truck per month. It is said that the cost of repair parts on some other models of truck runs as high as $40 to $50 per truck per month.

Tyre replacements on F. W. D. trucks average 25 per cent. less than on rear wheel drive trucks plus at least 10 per cent. longer wear, assuring a full 35 per cent. saving on tyres year in and year out. The four tyres on an F. W. D. truck are called upon each to take an equal share of work and each to carry an almost even division of weight, 45 per cent. front and 55 per cent. rear. This wear on the tyres is so evenly distributed that the saving on tyres is far too big to be ignored by the truck buyer.

There were many types of truck used during the war, but a business man of Hongkong, who was with the forces in France, says that the F.W.D. trucks were selected for the hardest job of all, notably carrying ammunition. He says that he saw many thousands of them in use and that he judged they were highly successful.

Mr. Daniels informed a China Mail reporter that in the 8 months he has been travelling in the East he has taken orders for 340 trucks, and delivery has been made of 14 trailers. This represents a value of about $2,000,000 gold, which shows that the Far East is not lagging behind in investing in modern inventions of merit. He says that agencies have been placed in China, Japan, Korea, the Philippine Islands, Hongkong, the Straits Settlements, F. M. S., Siam, India, Burma, Java, and Sumatra.

Owing to pressure of business the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Daniels has been delayed. They now expect to leave some time next week for northern China, proceeding later to Korea, Manchuria and Siberia.
